SHORT METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS FOR THE WEEK.

September.

Monday, 2.—School begins. The school days are taken advantage of by the street car...

Tuesday, 3.—Convention of Democrats at Military Hall, to nominate members for the Legislature. A split among the heads of the Convention resulted in a fight...

Wednesday, 4.—Equal Rights and Equal Suffrage Convention at Wilmington. The different "Hundreds" of Delaware, on account of the smallness of the State, were represented by titles.

Thursday, 5.—The Spiritualists hold a Convention in Ohio, and discuss the feasibility of making themselves a secret society, thus trying to "turn the tables" on the Masons.

Friday, 6.—The "Haymakers" got Washington to play ball. Andy refuses to see these hay "locks," saying that he has no time; that he himself must make hay while the sun shines.

Saturday, 7.—SERIES COLUMN DAY. The Editor commences his fall trade, as his summer trade was not a profitable one.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM OUR EASTERN CORRESPONDENT!

His Interview with Ben. Butler!

WHAT BEN SAYS AND WHAT HE DOESN'T!

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

GLOSTER, MASS., Sept. 4.

Dear Series Editor—I yesterday called on General Butler, who, as you may have heard, is building a house here "on the rock" overlooking the sea, and, as preliminary to operations, has moved here in a small frame shanty with his family, while he himself, to oversee the work, occupies a tent on the top of the hill, living over again his tent-life on the battle-field. I waited upon him, when he took down his pipe, and "told how fields were won."

Butler, like Grant, is a great smoker; but, unlike him, he TALKS AS HE SMOKES!

and, as he smoked and talked, I wrote the notes from which I compile this letter. The conversation, of course, soon turned on political subjects, and I asked him his views of

THE PRESENT SITUATION.

"Well," he said, "the situation would be sufficiently alarming if it was certain that Johnson was acting from purpose and plan, and not from obstinacy and personal ill-will. Like other white men from Tennessee, he is very uncertain. If he could be calculated upon, as another man might be, me for example"—the General took half-a-dozen extra vigorous puffs—"one would say that these acts in removing the three capital S's, Stanton, Sheridan, and Sickles, might be called the S-sense of treason, and was part of a plan to take something stronger than his usual biters, perhaps the control of the Government, upon the theory that the legislation of Congress was unconstitutional, and, therefore, not binding on the Executive; just as he considers his morning 'eye-openers' and evening 'nightcaps' just the thing for his Constitution; therefore not to be omitted under any circumstances.

"His course would seem to indicate, by putting General Grant into the War Department to smoke his cigar there, that he would expect some fire where there was so much smoke; but as Grant drew his fire so mild on Stanton, the President now regards him a kind of flash in the pan. But the wavering and instability of the President heretofore (in more senses than one)—and he gave a sly wink with his other eye towards a bottle—"relieves the country from any pressing belief of danger. Johnson lacks courage and capacity. If he should reorganize his cabinet and side-board at the same time, by putting Jerry Black in one, and taking Tom and Jerry and John out of the other"—Here I interrupted, and asked, "what John?" "Demi-John," continued the General, without a smile, though a "smile" would have been appropriate with both of us, the weather being warm and dry—"he would have a certain amount of both courage and capacity. Then, indeed, a conservative reaction might begin, and one could easily predict the probable turn of events. But now we are in the condition of the sportsman who refused to match his blood horse for a race with the farmer's old white bull, because no man could tell how fast a top-horned bull would run."

I asked the General if he knew Mr. Black personally, and what he thought of him. "Yes," he said, "I know Black; I have

MEET HIM AT THE BAR.

He is a man of decided genius and good taste. I never knew a better judge of mixed drinks than Jerry. He believes thoroughly in the unconstitutionality of the war; also, that Andrew Jackson is not dead, as do many of his fellow-citizens in Pennsylvania. Not doubting on these points, he would have no hesitancy in following his plans to their logical sequence, which would be, of course, restoring slavery back again, where practicable, and all good Democrats to vote their tickets 'solid.' This, with him, would be true conservatism. He looks with distrust upon any other course, and regards the present Congress as revolutionary, and tending to bring the Democratic party into disrepute."

I then asked what he thought of General Grant's position in the Cabinet. "Grant," he said, "has taken upon himself a very difficult and dangerous role. If he gets safely through it, I shall give him credit for more ability than I have ever been inclined to do. His accepting the office of the Secretary of War is open to two constructions. The President's request was not an order, yet his friends say he interpreted the invitation of the President to 'swing the circle' to Chicago as an order; and so of this. My opinion of Grant I will keep 'corked up in a bottle,' and await events. Time will soon tell whether he can fight it out on the line he has now taken up or not. It is to be hoped that he can."

I next asked what he thought of Mr. Stanton. "Stanton," resumed the General, "has the confidence of the country, and he is yet the Secretary of War, though his office is usurped and he is trout-fishing in the White House; yet I cannot doubt for a moment but that Congress will reinstate him."

I asked his opinion of Mr. Seward. "It seems to me," he said, "that there can be but one explanation of Seward's course—he gave his note for sixty days at the commencement of the Rebellion, and it was not honored, and he acts like a man dead-broke ever since. He insists that we can't stand the expenses of the war. Yet he goes about buying up all the barren and frozen continents, islands, and peninsulas in the market. He feels that the Republican party is never going to make him President, and he is determined, if possible, to break up the party on that account. Like a pan of new milk, he has been soured by the storms of politics; and, to continue the figure, instead of the rich cream of patriotism that used to rise on the surface of his acts, nothing but the weakest and bluest of milk and water is seen in all of his doings. No amount of churning could get a pound of butter out of him."

I now asked General Butler's opinion of the prospects of impeachment. He replied: "Impeachment is sure to come. I would hold it as a rod in pickle; and had it been kept in view properly before the President, he would never have ventured as he has done. That was my opinion once, and is yet; but I have got accustomed to have my opinions on public affairs made good twelve months after date."

With these philosophic views of things by the General, I must close. After our conversation I took a walk on the beach with the General and his family, whose wife, by-the-way, is reckoned a beauty hereabouts, which is not the case with her husband. Any fair morning on the beach you can see Ben and the "Beast" in consultation on their new dwelling and its surroundings.

—YOUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

A Delicious Beverage.

"I see we have spiritualism at the White House," says Jones. "How 's that?" said we. "Why, Tom Florence and Jerry Black are dictating the Amnesty Proclamation that the President is writing," says Jones. "Well, what's that to do with it?" "That puts Andy under the influence of the spirits of Tom and Jerry!" quoth Jones.

Coming it Strong.

The papers last Thursday gave us a paragraph saying that "a party of colored people arrived at Cape May by the cars four hundred strong;" also that "the thermometer was 84 in the shade."

This latter piece of information about the weather may account for the party arriving at the Cape so strong.

ELEVATING THE BLACKS.—Putting Jeremiah in the Cabinet.

"Tell That to the Marines."

By the foreign papers we see that Napoleon has changed all of his wooden ships, "three deckers," into floating stables. These transports, then, will hereafter be manned by the horse marines.

Not a "Blind" to Everybody. Small Boy.—"Oh! see his breastpin; what a big diamond!"

Philosophic Boy.—"That's the man wot runs Blind Tom."

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Obvious reasons why Willecox & Gibbs' Family Sewing Machines are becoming so universally popular. First, they are the "Perfection of Mechanism," and are so regarded by eminent engineers, machinists, and scientific men everywhere, because of their superior finish and elegance of construction. Each machine is as carefully and accurately finished as a watch.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' Family Sewing Machines have rapidly taken a foremost place among the well-known machines of the day. Secondly, because they are adapted to the greatest range of work, and will use successfully either cotton, silk, or linen thread. These machines are fully competent where others are found wanting.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' Family Sewing Machines are highly recommended by all who use them. Thirdly, because they make the patent "twisted loop-stitch," which is the most beautiful, elastic, and durable stitch known. This stitch overcomes all objections to a single-thread machine.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' celebrated Sewing Machines are regarded very superior for family use. Fourthly, because they are "gloriously simple," as readily comprehended as a pair of scissors, and not more liable to derangement. These machines are kept in order free of charge.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' Sewing Machines are acknowledged the best for manufacturing purposes. Fifthly, because they can be run at the highest speed, and are the most durable in constant use. Three thousand perfect stitches can be made in a single minute by power.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' invaluable Sewing Machines are cheerfully recommended by all physicians. Sixthly, because they are entirely noiseless, and are operated with perfect ease. "They can safely be used in a sick room, or by the cradle of a sleeping infant."

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' Improved Sewing Machines are rapidly becoming the general favorite. Seventhly, because they are absolutely complete, and will hem, fell, braid, blind, cord, tuck, gather, and embroider, all in the most perfect and satisfactory manner. The hems, fells, etc., are turned under, rather than over, thus bringing the stitching on the right side.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' rapid, noiseless Sewing Machines are destined to gain a pre-eminence. Eighthly, because they are easily managed; a novice requires no instruction, and but little practice, to become as skillful as an experienced operator. No screw-driver or other tools are used in oiling or cleaning machines.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' most excellent Sewing Machines are gaining popularity every day. Ninthly, because they cannot be turned the wrong way, and may be started with the foot, while both hands are otherwise employed in holding or arranging the work. This patent (noiseless) "break," or "stop," is of incalculable value to beginners.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' noiseless Family Sewing Machines gain friends continually, but never lose them. Tenthly, because they are self-regulating and always in working order. They never have "loosds," and never vex or ruffle the temper, even of the most irritable. The hammers, fellers, braiders, needles, etc., are all self-adjusting.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Willecox & Gibbs' rapid, noiseless, easily managed, durable, first-class Sewing Machines are in excellent favor everywhere. Eleventhly, because they prove superior to the most sanguine expectations. The most exalted representation is never exaggerated.

Salesrooms, No. 730 Chesnut Street.

Willecox & Gibbs' Gold Medal Family Sewing Machines.

Agents for the sale of Willecox & Gibbs' celebrated single-thread Sewing Machines are enthusiastically successful. Twelfthly, because every machine sold serves as a "telling advertisement."

No dissatisfaction is ever expressed, but hearty recommendations.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.—JOY COE & CO., AGENTS for the "TELEGRAPH" and Newspaper Press of the whole country, have REMOVED from FIFTH and CHESTNUT streets to No. 144 S. SIXTH Street, second door above WALNUT. OFFICES—No. 144 S. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia. TRIBUNE BUILDINGS, New York. 7304p

WIEGAND'S PATENT STEAM GENERATOR.—This is the most simple, safe, and economical apparatus known for making steam. It is less expensive, both in first cost and use, and its advantages are such that it must supersede every other boiler. IT CANNOT POSSIBLY BE EXPLODED; will not rust; can be increased to any capacity by the addition of section; can be separated into sections for convenient transportation; generates steam fast and dry; economizes in space, weight, and fuel; ceases less for brick work and setting up; is less liable to get out of order, and can be anywhere repaired; and can be manufactured and sold thirty per cent. less than any other boiler now in use. Engineers, machinists, and capitalists are invited to examine one of these Boilers now in operation at Henderson's Mill, Coates street, west of Twenty-first. A company to manufacture this boiler is being organized, and one thousand shares of stock in all are offered for sale at $50 a share, of which two-thirds has been subscribed. It will be shown to those interested, that a large profit is already being realized in the manufacture.

A model of the boiler can be seen at the office of SAMUEL W. CRIG, Northeast cor. THIRD and DOCK streets, where subscriptions for shares in the Company will be received. 7304p

OFFICE OF THE FRANKFORD AND PHILADELPHIA PASSENGER RAILWAY COMPANY, No. 2435 FRANKFORD Road, PHILADELPHIA, August 28, 1867.

All persons who are subscribers to or holders of the Capital Stock of this Company, and who have not yet paid the tenth installment of Five Dollars per share, are hereby notified that the said tenth installment has been called in, and that they are required to pay the same at the above office on the 15th day of September, 1867.

By order of the Board, JACOB BINDER, President.

THE PENNSYLVANIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—At the Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company, held on MONDAY, the 23d of September, 1867, the following gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year, viz:—

Isabel Smith, Jr., John Devereux, Alexander Johnson, Thomas Moore, Isaac Hisselhurst, Henry Lewis, Thomas Robins, J. Gilliam Fell, Daniel Haddock, Jr.

And at a meeting of the Directors on the same day, DANIEL SMITH, Jr., Esq., was unanimously re-elected President.

WILLIAM G. CROWELL, Secretary.

THE PENNSYLVANIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. SEPTEMBER 8, 1867.

The Directors have this day declared a dividend of SEVEN DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS per share on the stock of the Company for the last six months, which will be paid to the stockholders or their legal representatives, after the 15th instant.

W. G. CROWELL, Secretary.

TOBACCO.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A DAY!

CENTURY TOBACCO, IN TIN FOIL.

In order to overcome a natural prejudice that always exists against New York Tobacco, and being fully convinced that where the CENTURY brand is once used its superior qualities will be recognized, we have adopted the plan of putting money in the papers as an extra inducement to consumers to give it a trial.

Instead of a single Hundred Dollar Note in one paper, as we have done heretofore, we have consented to vary the amount, but in all cases to allow the aggregate to be the same, viz:—

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A DAY ON MONDAYS we will place a HUNDRED DOLLAR (One Paper.) NOTE in a paper of Century.

ON TUESDAYS we will place in each of TWO papers (Two Papers.) of Century a FIFTY DOLLAR NOTE.

ON WEDNESDAYS we will place in each of FIVE (Five Papers.) papers of Century a TWENTY DOLLAR NOTE.

ON THURSDAYS we will place in each of TEN (Ten Papers.) papers of Century a TEN DOLLAR NOTE.

ON FRIDAYS we will place in each of TWENTY (Twenty Papers.) papers of Century a FIVE DOLLAR NOTE.

ON SATURDAYS we will place in each of FIFTY (Fifty Papers.) papers of Century a TWO DOLLAR NOTE.
